HONGKONG, FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1868.

THE ANAMITE MISSION. THE Anamese Envoys, to whose arrival

we are afraid, return to their native country with a very exalted idea British hospitality. That, officially speaking, they have met with a proper recep tion; we have no reason to doubt, but there are occasions when a slight departure from the mere limits of official routine is ustifiable and advantageous. Here we have the messengers of a King, politically insignificant, it may be, as regards our policy in China, but exercising away offer a region which includes no inconsiderable sea coast and hence for maritime reasons alone a potentate whose frieudship is worth cultivating. Still more so, in view of French movements in Cambodia, is it well to impress the natives of this little studied country with favourable ideas of friendly feeling and of our apprecia as possible, but no guarantee can be tion of the grateful sentiments which have prompted the despatch of the E voys to wait upon Sir R. MacDonnell; and to this end the exercise of a little libera lity would not be misplaced. The mission brings, if we are rightly informed certain presents, of no great intrinsic value but acceptable from the sentiment they represent, to His Excellency, and i would seem but reasonable that during their stay the Envoys should receive some little takens of consideration upart from any gifts they may receive for conveyance to their Sovereign. If only a few cases of Champagne and similar articles of creature comfort were presented to them, enough would thereby done to assimilate their reception to that invariably accorded to similar missions between oriental nations. But so far as we have yet been able to learn, the envoys have been allowed to remain on board their ships, and to obtain at their own cost anything of use or luxury of which they stood in need. Surely the Colonial Government might afford a few hundred dollars in hospitality to the representatives of even the King of Anam ! But there is an importance attaching to this mission quite apart from the feelings of respect or the contrary which we may entertain for its author. It is a bankrupt's discharge would be granted. public acknowledgement before the world that a humanity, which was denied at Macao to sufferers by the illegal acts of persons claiming Portuguese protection, was happily exhibited by a British Co-There is perhaps a scarcely blameable feeling on the part of the Colonial clared upon his oath that the robbery was Government that it would be bad taste to "make too much" of the compliment paid it for an act of simple duty and humanity. HONGKONG SUGAR.

WE have received a specimen of the first (experimental) lot of sugar turned out at the new works at East Point, and congratulate the managers upon the success which has rewarded their first efforts. In colour it is very slightly brown, owing, as we are informed, to the arrangements for laying on water to the works being as yet incomplete. So soon as a plentiful supply of this necessary is obtainable, the beautiful and minute chrystals, which constitute the product of the new-mills will assume that white color so familiar to us at home. Much has been said about the danger to which the spirited Chinese proprietors of the mills will be exposed by a combination amongst the other native merchants who deal in this article-a combination similar to that which has so long interfered with the development of the bean cake trade. We do not however fear the result if they are only true to their own interests, and the fact that the establishment is to be worked by well qualified foreigners will remove one great temptation to meddle with it on the part of envious rivals. If it be merely as an additional evidence of progress, we are sincerely glad to find that the establishment will very shortly be in perfect working

WE understand that the plaintiffs in the case of Wahee and others v. Jumes Henderson, master of the Red Riding Hood, are not disposed to allow the case to stand as now decided by the Judge of the Small Cause Court, and that they purpose appealing against the judgment given the other day by Judge Ball. They can, we believe. appeal to the Chief Justice direct, even in ase of refusal by the ummary Judge. MR C. C. SMITH left Hongkong for Eng. land on leave of absence by the mail steamer this morning; and it is no matter for surprise that his departure was the occasion of some marked demonstrations on the purt of the Chinese merchants, During the last two or three years, as student interpreter, Registrar General, protector of Chinese, and finally as acting Colo ial Secretary as well, Mr Smith has learned much of Chinese habits of thought, and has been able to learn more of the Danese character than many of our older diniu strators. In addition, therefore, to the Tokongish street-lining presented this morning on the Regis rar General's departure, a large number of the Chinese merchants escorted Mr Smith to the P. & O. Wharf, and wished him long life and all the virtues under the sun. These good wishes were accompinied with the usual superfluity of crackers and other outward forms of "chin-chin." WE have already stated, the fact that Inspector Lawrence was released on bail in $2,500 to appear to answer two charges of extortion in the Supreme Court on the 18th instant; and added that a number of other charges are pending against that constable. We are now informed that one of the householders who stood security for Mr Lawrence, apprehensive of losing the $500 for which he had signed a bond, has retreated from his position as security, and refused to stand for the above amount. Lawrence, it is said, applied to obtain a substitute for this tremulous security, but has been refused the privilege, and now remains in the safe custody of the Police. The conduct of the authorities in this matter is certainly to be commended, as they appear honestly determined to bring the

IN BANKRUPTCY. The Honorable the Chief Justice sat for a short time this morning in Bankruptcy, when Robert Souil and Joseph Burt, bankrupts, appeared to obtain their discharge Mr Gaskell appeared on behalf of both bankrupts. Mr Seuil, having passed his final examination fourteen days since, received his discharge. - Mr Patrick O'Toole appeared to oppose Burt's discharge, and forced his claim for board and lodging The bankrupt stated that he was going to Australia in the Atrevida, in which vessel he was to work his wife and child's passage; and that, so soon as he reached the Colonies, he was to get command of a ship, with a salary of $120 a-month and "found." No copy of the minutes of the meeting, nor any direct intimation of the result of the proceedings, was transmitted to His Excellency, and without such I believe it would have been out of order for him to advert to the action of the Chamber. Your's truly.

This letter reached us just before our Overland issue was sent to press; and after the article referred to had been printed We have no desire to do injustice to His Excellency, and therefore give insertion to this lotter. THREATENED INVASION OF CHINA The following paragraph is from the Friend of India, April 1st:-We learn from a correspondent that the relations between Nepal and Great Tibet have been very unsatisfactory since 1864. Up to that time the Lhasa authorities paid Nepal R. 10,000 annually; but since 1864 on the accession of a new Gyalpo the Lhassa authorities have declined paying anything. In 1866 a Nepalese agent was sent to Pekin across the Himalayas. He suffered great hardships, and his presents were refused and he himself put into prison. By the latest intelligence Maharajah Jung Bahadoor's preparations for the invasion of Great Tibet continne, troops are being quietly massed and stores collected near Khaimandu. Shrewd people in that city yow that the first object of the invasion will be to loot Foglakote, Kirong and Dingri, the Frontier towns of Tibet. If successful at the last place, and if no great opposition is met with, the Nepalese force will advance upon Lhasa, plundering Sakya and Digarcha en route. At Lhassa Jung Bahadoor hopes to seize the Chinese Resident, as a reprisal for the treatment of his own agent. We give the facts as they are reported by our correspondent, but we expect that there is some exaggeration. Maharaja Jung Bahadoor may have reason to be offended by the should like you and Max to go to Batavia Lhassa authorities, but he is scarcely likely to risk the dispatch of a large army into

If you like being in a minoritypunsity—then, and then only, is it safe to hit out at the obstinate majority as if it had no friends. Otherwise, let us have as much stright and hard hitting as is possible, but not let us have any hitting below the belt. convince the wavering bystander that you are the stronger man of the two, and it does convince him that you are a sayage, whether the rightful champion or not. The strongor the projudices against which a reformer has to contend, the more irritating they are o'wionsly, if he is in earnest; but then the more carefully should be not allow himself to be irritated, or at least not allow his irritation to be seen. Of course this is commouplace, only it is as neglected as most good commonplaces are. The conversion of Mr Bright to this view of policy is too important an event not to remind us of it very strikingly and very agreeably. He showed the other night that it is possible to feel very strongly, to desire something very ardently, and to talk to the people who keep him out of it coolly and considerately; and, what is more, by this process to come much nearer getting it than by railing at them .- Pall Mall Gazette.

A Book Packet may contain any number of separate Books, Almanacks, Maps or Prints, and any quantity of paper, vellum or parchment (to the exclusion of letters whether sealed or open); and the Books, Maps, Paper, &c., may be either printed, written or plain, or any mixture of the

Every Book packet must be either without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends

It must not contain any letter, open or sealed, nor any sealed enclosure whatever. No packet must exceed two feet in length,

AS REGARDS PATTERNS They must not be of intrinsic value. This rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and indeed, whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as pattern; and the quantity of any material sent ostensibly as a pattern must not be so great that it can fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.

There must be no writing or marks other than the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, a trade mark and numbers, and prices of the articles; otherwise the Packet will be detained or forwarded charged as an unpaid letter. The Patterns must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination. Samples however, of seeds, drugs, and so forth, which cannot be sent in oper covers, may be enclosed in bage of linen or other material, tied at the neck; bags so closed that they cannot readily be opened, even although they be transparent, must not be used for this purpose. Non-compliance with this rule will also subject the packet to be detained, or forwarded as an unpaid letter.

The Packets or the contents thereof must not contain any inclosure, sealed or otherwise closed against inspection. In all other respects the general regulations of the Book Post will apply to the Pattern Post. Under these regulations, in order to prevent any interruption to the regular transmission of letters, a Packet of Patterns may, when it is necessary be kept back for the following Mail by which, in the ordinary course, it would be forwarded. The decision of the Postmaster General as to the eligibility of any Packet, pattern, or sample contained therein, to be forwarded under these regulations, will be final and conclusive.

The rule which forbids the transmission through the Post of nov article likely to injure the contents of the Mail Bags or Boxes, or the person of any Officer of the Post Office is, of course, applicable to the Pattern Post; and a packet containing anything of the kind will be stopped, and not sent to its destination. Articles such as the following have been occasionally posted ab als Nationalflagge ausschliesslich die as Patterns and have been detained as unfit for the Post, viz : Metal boxes, porceof flowers, cuttings of plants, spurs, knives, | vom 25sten October 1867 ein längliches sharp pointed instruments, samples of horizontalen Streifen, von welchen der obere metals, samples of ore, samples in glass bottles, pieces of glass, ucids of various kinds, curry combs, copper and steel engraving, plates and confectionery of all
